ABOUT US

Cybersecurity has become critical to the fabric of any modern business. As breach after breach hits the headlines, it's clear to everyone that organizations need more professionals focused on cybersecurity.

The Cybersecurity club will be set with a goal to teach individuals about cybersecurity and help them gain their knowledge necessary to arm themselves against modern-day computer exploits. The club is open to everybody at Velalar College of Engineering and Technology no matter what experience level or major they are.

This club will help start and maintain a culture in the institute which will go a long way in helping students of current and future batches.
